

CLINICAL APPLICATION OF NON-INVASIVE VENTILATION IN PATIENTS WITH RESPIRATORY FAILURE

WEBINAR

 Saturday, 20th March 2021  3:00PM - 4:00PM (SGT)
 Chinese (Live Interpretation to English and Thailand)

As a follow on from Professor Xie's webinar on the utility of Non-Invasive Ventilation in patients with Acute Respiratory failure, Professor Ge Huiqing will demonstrate the practical aspects including appropriate patient selection and set up of the Curative GA ventilator for patients with respiratory failure.

Professor Ge Huiqing
Doctorate in Clinical Medicine
Director and Chief Respiratory Therapist,
Department of Respiratory Therapy,
Run Run Shaw Hospital affiliated to Zhejiang
University Medical College Hospital

With over 20 years of rich clinical experience in respiratory therapy sector, she has broad expertise engagement in respiratory support, respiratory rehabilitation, difficult airway management, and pulmonary function assessment for patient with critical respiratory failure.

Stay tuned for the last 10 minutes, where we open the floor for you to ask all your burning questions.

THE TOPICS COVERED IN THE WEBINAR

- 1) Recommended patient selection criteria with respiratory failure
- 2) Clinical utility and mode of function using NIV for selected lung condition
- 3) Practical setup of GA NIV in the hospital setting
- 4) Discussion of case study on patient with respiratory condition

Scan the QR code or click below to register today!

Register for the discussion today